Did you know...

Nearly 28% of all land in Seattle is dedicated to automobile travel?
And that doesn't even take into account private parking!

PARK(ing) Day
09.17.2010
Seattle, Washington

Here's your chance to show Seattle what our city would look like if more public land was dedicated to the movement and interactions of people instead of the movement and storage of cars.

If you are interested in participating in PARK(ing) Day, please contact Feet First ASAP for more information and start planning your PARK today!
